Sorry, Major. I don't mean to sound overbearing. It's just after what happened at Centaur...

Major,

Aside from the inappropriateness of the conversation, it seems odd that Keith would come up like this. I know there's an overabundant concern over everything related to Keith, but I like to keep myself involved in anything having to do with him. Keep me posted.

Sincerely,

Pam Reed

Hello Ms. Reed,

I personally don't find anything too unusual about this message exchange, other than a possible affair.

Nevertheless, it's unprofessional in a work environment and I'll be sure to address this.

Thank you kindly,

-Mjr. Schanafelt

Major Schanafelt,

The network firewall intercepted a strange instant message conversation. Seems like it was triggered by the words KEITH GROENEWALD.

BCC9020-064210 So have you made up your mind?

BPFGRXT-883845 I dunno and I don't feel comfortable talking about it here

BCC9020-064210 But we're only talking about "coming over" for drinks ☺

BPFGRXT-883845 I'm committed

BCC9020-064210 To an old thing that's past its prime

BPFGRXT-883845 I dunno

BCC9020-064210 I'd hate for you to be on the wrong side of things

BPFGRXT-883845 poor Keith Groenewald

BCC9020-064210 you're an idiot!

The agents haven't been on the network or communicated since. They're both currently on separate assignments.

I'd like to take a look at other conversations from these agents, but I lack the authorization to retrieve archived data beyond 30 days. I'd get Flynn to give me the okay, but since this agent is under your command I figured it'd be best to let you handle this.

I believe you've worked with these two agents several times in the past... any idea what they're talking about?

Sincerely,

Pam Reed
